FRUIT IMPORTATIONS VALUED AT MILLIONS

Custom Houses During Last Fiscal Year Had Large Receipts.

Ninety millions dollars' worth of fruits and nuts passed through custom-houses of the United States during the fiscal year just ended, according to a report of the Department of Commerce issued yesterday.

The exports amounted to $37,000,000, against $18,000,000 ten years ago, and the imports $42,000,000, against $24,000,000 ten years ago.

Apples, prunes, apricots, raisins, and oranges are the chief fruits exported, and those imported are chiefly bananas, lemons, olives, currants, and grapes. Few fruits are exported, but extensive imports of almonds, walnuts, coconuts, and coconut meat are drawn to this country from the tropics. Apples constitute the chief fruit exports, $11,000,000 worth of this fruit, in natural and dried form, being exported. England takes the greater part of this export trade.

The bananas imported during the fiscal year just ended amounted to $14,000,000 in value, constituting the chief fruit import. Four million dollars in lemon imports came chiefly from Italy, and $2,000,000 in olives, chiefly from Spain.

Chief of Police Receives Thanks.

Richard Sylvester, thanking him for the police protection given by the department's detachment under Inspector Cross to the comic parade of July 4. Mr. Evans requested Maj. An abandoned frame shed in the rear of the plant of the Emerson Steam Pump Company, at the head of King Street, took fire shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon and was destroyed. Boys smoking cigarettes in the place, it is thought, was responsible for the fire.

The fire department responded, but upon its arrival the shed had burned down. A stream from the hose at the plant of the Emerson Company, together with a bucket brigade, which was formed by volunteers prevented a spread of the fire.

WASHINGTON IS AS DRY AS A COVERED BRIDGE

City's First Sunday Under New Excise Law—Liquor Barred from Hotels, Clubs, and Saloons.

People of the District today will pass through the driest Sunday this part of the country has ever known. This is the forecast of the police department, and they ought to know, as Corporation Counsel Thomas has spent considerable of his time in patiently expounding the new excise law to them.

On this day in the District, liquor cannot be sold, dispensed, or given away. Last night Maj. Sylvester gave his instructions to put on the lid today and sit on it.

Saloonkeepers last night advised all their friends to take home enough liquid comfort to last over Sunday. All those who need a drink had when they want one either provided themselves with excursion tickets to places outside the District or laid the foundations of a wine cellar in their homes yesterday. Only a physician's prescription, sworn to before witnesses, can procure strong drink in the Capital today.

According to corporation counsel, it is unlawful even to carry one's refreshment with one to the club to enjoy it there.

One hotel man advertised that on account of the excise law he would close his restaurant today.

SUIT TO ESTABLISH LIEN OF $161,281.14

Action Begun Against Henry H. Giltry, Margaret W. Giltry, and Jay Strickland.

Suit against Henry H. Giltry, Margaret W. Giltry, and Jay Strickland was started yesterday by the Ravenswood Company to establish a lien of $161,281.14 in favor of the company against the property of the defendants on property in City View Heights, on the Bladensburg Road.

It is set forth that December 9 Mr. Giltry executed a declaration of trust in which he assigned the property to Jay Strickland and Margaret W. Giltry, subject to a deduction of $161,281.14 in favor of the Senator, which would constitute a lien on the property. In January Senator Clark transferred his interest to the company. Further, the plaintiff alleges, June 24 Giltry executed a deed to Jay Strickland which recited a debt of $5,000 due Strickland and secured on Giltry's half interest in certain of the property.

The company asks discovery of the holders of the notes mentioned in the first trust and asks the court to order a sale and a settlement of the lien before any subsequent indebtedness be paid.

Nation's Natal Day Remembered.

The White House yesterday received telegrams from the Presidents of the South and Central American republics, congratulating President Wilson on the anniversary of the nation's birth. They were transmitted to the President at Cornish, N. H.
